The Mischief, owned by L. R. Busk, was selected to meet her, and on November 2 she defeated the Atlanta by 28 minutes, 19 seconds. It was in 1885 that Sir Richard Sutton's cutter, Genesia, designed by J. Beaver-Webb, gave our yachtmen a scare, but that very fast vessel met one a little faster and the cup was still safe. It was in 1885 that she came over from England and met the Puritan, a Boston boat.

Meantime the ironclad Priscilla was constructed on plans laid out by A. Cary Smith, the popular New York designer, and the new boats went in the trial races with the Gracie and the Redouin, the latter being an out-and-out cuter from designs by John Harvey, an out-and-out Englishman. The Furitan and Priscilla wers the largest sleeps that had ever been built in America.

There were there trial races and the Cowance the entiry altered somewhat.

America.

There were three trial races and the new boats and had them all to themselves. The Priscilla won one, but the Puritan defeated her twice, and was selected to defend the cup.

The Puritan-Genesta match consisted of best two out of three races. Two disappointing starts were made when the event was called off. The Puritan fouled the Genesta at the start and was promptly and properly ruled out. On September 11 they made a third unsuccessful start. On September 14 they sailed over the New York Yacht club course, a distance of about thirty-eight naurical miles and the Puritan won by 16 minutes, 19 seconds, after allowing the Genesta 28 seconds.

Gave Them a Fright.

It was on September 16 that the Genesia gave the New Yorkers a fright. The race was twenty miles down the wind and a beat back. The cutter boat beat the centerboard one minute, 21 seconds on the run out, and on the beat back the Burgess boat managed to cross the line one minute 33 seconds ahead.

Genesta won the Beckons reef and Cape May cups from the schooner Dauntless before she returned to Eng-

The Mayflower was easily the best of the quartette and she successfully defended the cup. On September 7 again over their inside course she defeated, the Galatea by 12 minutes, 2 seconds, and two days later in the open the Burgess creation wor by 22 minutes, 8 seconds. ing beaten in two straight races.

Then the Thistle.

The Scotch steel cutter Thistle was the next challenger to take a Mopping. She was designed by George L. Watson of Glasgow, fier owners were very confident when they sent their ship over the Atlantic in 1887. At the instigation of General Paine, Mr. Burgess then turned out the Volunteet, which proved to be a wonder in windward work, but a single that race with the Mayflower was needed to show the new boat's superiority.

Two years ago Lord Duraven built another yacht, which was the second of the name of Valkyrie and brought her over after the cup. The events of 1893 are within easy recollection and memorable will they always be. Everybody remembers how four big single etickers were built to compete for the honor of defending the cup. General Paine was at the front with the Jubillee. One New York yachtsmen chipped in to build the Vigilant. The chipped in to build the Vigilant was selected to defond the cup and after several glorious trials she bust Valkyrie. It three straight races.

The match this year between Valkyrie ill and Defender will be comprised of lest three out of five races, and will be started from the Sandy Hook lighthin, which is Ti, miles outside of Sandy Hook. They will be held on alternate days, the first being programmed for Sept. 7. The courses will be thirty miles long each and the turn will be taken at 5 miles to windward or leeward and return and the triangular course of 16 miles to the leg until one of the racers win three races.

to the leg until one of the racers will three races.

It is generally admitted that this year will see the closest contest ever had for the cup. Valkyrie III showed before she left home that she is the castest yacht ever hullt over there, at least in light water. Defender has been fried in all kinds of winds, (though she has not yet been out in a rough sea) and it is the universal opinion among experis that she is better than Vigilant by ten minutes if not more in thirty miles, and Vigilant is believed to be four minutes faster than she was lest year.

The races will perhaps be very close, but no tenth of a second will separate the boats at the finish.

It will be noticed the lead water line sengths of the ships only show a difference of forty-bundredths in favor of Defender, and that the length of the Defender's gaff went considerably toward reducing the small advantage gained on the water line. It will also be seen the sail area does not show so great a difference as was expected. The races will perhaps be very close, and steriff.

No previous contest for the America cup has aroused such an intense and widespread interest on both sides of the Atlantic as the races between the Defender and Valkyrie III, which will begin tomorrow off Sanday Hook. The hotels are packed with guests, and every available excursion steamer will be pressed into service to accommo-date the thousands of sightseers who will witness the rare spectacle. "Un-usual precautions have been taken by the cup committee to have the course property patrolled so the racing yachts will not be interfered with. The patrol properly patrolled so the racing yachts will not be interfered with. The patrol force will be in charge of R. S. Osborn, who looked after the recent naval parade at the opening of the Harlem ship canal, and Lieutenant Delhanty, supervisior of the port.

Local Forecaster Dunn said of tomorrow's probable weather: "Taking it all in all the conditions most likely to prevall tomorrow will be favorable for the contest. There will be a brisk wind of from twelve to eighteen miles an hour. It will come at first from the northeast, shifting to southeasterly. It is bound to be an on-shore wind. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6 .- The taking of testimony in the trial of Theodore Durrant is proceeding slowly.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 .- A special to the Tribune from Uniontown, Pa., says in-dications point to a general strike throughout the Connellsville coke region next week or the week after. The great boom in the iron market has stimulated the coke trade and forced the price of coke up to $150 per ton, an advance of 75c. a ton over the selling price at the close of the great strike a year ago. Last spring the operators granted an advance of 10 per cent to avoid a threatened strike. Since that time the price of coke has been on the jump and the men now demand another advance in coke. The operators are unwilling to accede to their demands. For several months the men have been secretly organizing. A delegate convention was held at Connells-ville today. All the works were represented by fifty-one delegates, who unantmously voted to demand $1 a hundred bushels for mining, and a general advance in all kinds of labor of 11 per cent, the advance to go into effect next Monday. WASHINGTON -- Surgeon General Wv-WASHINGTON. Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service, said there was no foundation for the story of a threatened invasion of San Francisco by cholera. Just as soon as an intimation was conveyed that there were suspicious cases aboard the Belgic," said General Wyman, "I telegraphed the sanitary inspector at San Francisco for information. He stated there was absolutely no truth in the report that passengers had died of cholera or of any other infection aboard the steamer. The only report from San Francisco that I know anything about is of a reassuring and not of an alarming character. There is no coidemic of cholera threatened at San Francisco or at any other port in the United States.

STANTON'S VIEWS IN VERSE, The Bloomer Meeting.

They had a woman's meting at Billville-on-the-Blow,
The subject up was "Bloomers: Shall they stay or shall they go?"
The speakin'-it was lively; the orators were able.
With Sister Wilkins in the chair, but mostly on the table.

The meeting opened with a prayer for heavenly direction;
'They sung a hymn or two an' then—they took up a collection
To make the meetin' orthodox; and then down came the gavel.
An' pitched the question in the crowd:
"Shall bloomers stay or travel?"

Mirandy Spriggins started out with:
"Sisters, laws 'a massy!
They ain't no question 'bout these styles in bloomers bein' sassy;
I wouldn't never put 'em on for this here whole creation!
They're goin' to run your husbands off and ruin this here nation!"

Then Chairman Wilkins took the floor and went for Sister Spriggins. She said a woman weak as her should gallop out the diggins! And then a hundred women rose, and in the speechifyin' They rushed her to a winder, an'—sent Sister Spriggins flyln'.

Then Sister Bolter took the stand, when quiet was a-reignin';
She said there wasn't any use in womenfolks complainin'.
'Bout bloomer styles an' bicykiles, an' these new-fangled twitches;
For, snew she'd knowed herself she'd been a-wearin' of the britches!

You bet that it was lively! the house turned upside down: Somebody rang the fire bell and sum-moned half the town. The buildin' was surrounded, an' with hair all out of comb. They caught them bloomer women an' their husbands led 'em home.
